DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 12-25 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 14-29 of copending Application No. 10/587,296. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they are an obvious variation of the claims presented in 10/587,296.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3742

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 12-15, 17-20 and 22-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Fanzutti et al.

There is disclosed in Fanzutti a coffee machine for preparing coffee using coffee pads, comprising: a continuous heater 118 secured in a housing 30 with a pipe 140 for guiding water; a flexible tube connecting piece 136, 138 at each end of the pipe, the connecting piece including receiving elements 132, 134 for integrating additional components (safety valve 146, temperature sensor 124, 125); a securing means 120, 122 for securing the heater in the housing; additional receiving elements 126, 130 for integrating the additional components; wherein the heater includes heating rods 142 and connecting sleeve members 144 for holding the rods together with the pipe; and wherein the connecting pieces include an O-ring (fig. 4) for providing a sealing fit with the pipe.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fanzutti et al.

Fanzutti discloses the claimed invention except for a plurality of axially spaced O-rings. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide an additional O-ring, since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art.

Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fanzutti et al. in view of Roberson.

Roberson discloses that it is known in the art to use a reed switch as a water level sensing means, the sensor being in combination with a temperature sensor as well.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the device of Fanzutti with the reed switch taught in Roberson, in order to monitor the water level of the device.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The prior art references to Tebo and Burrows are cited for their disclosure of the state of the art.
